NOTES TO CONTRIBUTORS:

As a forum for the interchange of ideas arising from the study of archaeology, ARC welcomes relevant contributions from workers in any field. Articles should not normally exceed 3000 to 4000 words in length. Upcoming themes are II(2): Ethnoarchaeology; projected III(1): Transitions to complex societies. Non-thematic contributions of general interest will also be considered. Shorter presentations on topical subjects are invited for Commentary as well as comments on the contents of previous issues. Unsolicited manuscripts will not normally be returned unless accompanied by a stamped, addressed envelope, or International Postal Coupons. The editors will attempt to ensure, but cannot always guarantee that copy-edited versions of accepted manuscripts will be returned to authors before publication. Manuscripts should be clearly typed, double-spaced, and follow the format of this issue. ARC has a policy of the non-sexist use of language and contributors are expected to conform to this policy. The editors are most willing to assist with any enquiries which may arise on this point.

ARC retains the copyright on all material it prints, but reproduction and publication rights are granted to authors on request.
